HON. C. P. BROWN DEAD.

The Ex-Sheriff and Popular Citizen Passes Away.

HE DIED SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME.

A Gentle Man With Few Enemies, Whose Career Was Long, Active and Honorable—He Was on the Street Twelve Hours Before He Expired—A Shock to His Friends.

The community was shocked yesterday by the news of the death of Mr. C. P. Brown, at his home at 66 Fifteenth street. He was out on the street on Saturday, and though he had not been in robust health for a few years past, no idea was entertained by his family or friends that he was in a dangerous condition. With his death Wheeling loses one of the most genial and popular men ever numbered among her citizens. He was born in Shenango county, N. Y., in February, 1816, and was much older than one who knew him casually would have suspected. He was connected with the National Pike for several years, and came to Wheeling in 1844 from Cumberland, Md. He was connected with several old time wholesale grocery firms, and afterwards went into the jewelry business, and opened an establishment of his own in 1853, when the old Washington hall building was completed. He was there until the hall was burned, and after it was rebuilt he moved back, and was one of the leading jewelers of Wheeling until he was elected sheriff of Ohio county in 1880. He then sold out his stock, and served as sheriff until 1885.

Upon retiring from the office Mr. Brown, E. L. Rose and N. K. Scott formed the Wheeling Oil Company, and he had been actively and successfully engaged in oil operations ever since. He was early in the Washington field, and was among the first investors at Manington, and he was noted for his shrewd investments and sales. He was one of the directors of the State Fair association until last fall, when he resigned. He was interested largely in the Wheeling Ice and Storage Company, and was a director in the Dollar Savings Bank.

Mr. Brown was married in 1833 to Miss Aukney, of Somerset, Pa. She and seven children survive him. They are Miss Abbie Brown, Mrs. Zack P. Robertson, both of Wheeling, Mrs. F. P. Nuzum, of St. Paul, who is expected here to-morrow, Miss Almira Brown, C. P. Brown, Jr., and Misses Lucie and Marian Brown. The last named is away at school in Kentucky, but will be home to-day.

Mr. Brown was the oldest Knight Templar in Wheeling since the death of the late L. S. Delaplaine. He was a member of Wheeling Commandery and of Ohio Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M. He was also a member of Virginia Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Few residents of Wheeling have been officials or stockholders of as many public enterprises, and few have been as active in business, politics and official life and made as few enemies. Everybody who spoke of his death yesterday did so with sincere regret. While unostentatious in his charities, he was one of the most liberal of men, and his death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him well.

CAMPBELL-ALLISON.

A Beautiful Marriage Ceremony at Majorville on the Twenty-Eighth.

One of the most delightful events of the season took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allison on the 28th instant, the marriage of their daughter, Cora, to Mr. William Campbell, both of Majorville, W. Va. At 10 o'clock a. m. guests began to arrive, and promptly at 12 m. the happy couple stepped to the veranda, and in the presence of one hundred or more invited guests the ceremony was performed, Rev. Mr. Phillips, of the Pleasant Valley circuit, officiating.

Congratulations were showered upon them. Dinner was then announced. The table was laden with the choicest of good things, and in point of excellence it is doubtful if it ever was excelled on Wheeling creek.

After dinner some fine music proved no small addition to the enjoyment. The bride was the recipient of many presents, some of them beautiful as well as costly. Miss Allison was formerly a very successful teacher of Marshall county. She had many friends, for all who knew her were such.

Special Services.

Each evening this week, with the exception of Monday and Saturday, there will be special religious services at the Second Presbyterian church, at which visiting pastors will officiate. To-morrow evening Rev. Mr. Bogle, of Martin's Ferry, will conduct them.

At the Second Presbyterian church yesterday morning and evening services were held suitable to the coming communion, which will be observed next Sunday. Very large congregations were present morning and evening.
